GLASSES, PRISM

Pair of Specially made glasses with pieces of plastic formed so that as you lay in bed with a book on your chest, you could actually read without craning your neck. These were found by in B. Joseph O'Neill's desk after his retirement by Scot Cornwall. Scot questioned Mr. O'Neill about the glasses and was told that the Library used to loan them out to invalids. They were probably made in the 1920's or 1930's.
